Crisis hotline advocates answered over 4,600 calls. CASA works closely with the Pinellas County Sheriff's Office Child Protection Investigation Division to increase the safety of adult and child victims of domestic violence and helps to reduce the number of out-of-home child placements due to domestic violence through the CPID (Child Protective Investigation Division Program). CASA's Substance Abuse program recognizes the perilous interconnection between substance abuse and battering.

Residential and non-residential services are provided for survivors of domestic violence and their children. Survivors may be multiply impacted by domestic violence and substance abuse, legal difficulties, or other social barriers to independence. Survivors participate in CASA's community support groups or in local community based programs that help and support navigation in utilizing the civil and criminal justice systems, substance use treatment, and other individualized needs. Staff also assist survivors at the Clerk of Courts making application for injunctions for protections.

Community-based weekly support groups and individual crisis counseling for survivors not in CASA's shelter provide support to those in crisis. CASA provides presentations and workshops to numerous mediums, civic, fraternal, professional, religious, school, neighborhood, and other groups annually. CASA's Community Education Program emphasizes "it takes a whole community to stop domestic violence."

The Peacemaker Program provides holistic peace education to almost 2,500 preschoolers, elementary and middle school children in a wide variety of classrooms and schools throughout Pinellas County, nurturing a sense of
